What's been going on this week at school!

WORLD BOOK DAY

World Book Day 2024 took place on Thursday 7th March 2024. This annual celebration of authors, illustrators, books and the joy of reading is one of the highlights of our year at the National Literacy Trust! World Book Day provides a fantastic opportunity to focus on reading for pleasure, supporting children's autonomy in book choice, and embedding a habit of reading that brings a wide range of benefits. It was amazing to see the wide variety of costumes and joy!

DOJO SHOP

The new Dojo shop opened this week for children to begin to spend their well earned Dojo points! There is something for everyone in there ranging from 50 points up to 500! Obviously, the bigger points require some patience and hard work to earn points but are totally achievable! We can't wait to see what the children spend their points on!

SENSORY NEST

if you've been up the stairs of the mezzanine in Mrs Hennessy's office you may have spotted that it has turned from a storage cupboard to a sensory space for any and all children that need it. Over the Easter holidays it is going to be painted dark blue so that the lights are really reflected off it which we can't wait to see! Thanks to Team DG for their funding donation.

Message from Mrs Baker-Clarke

World Book Day is one of my favourite days of the year! A chance to celebrate everything book related and lose yourself within the pages of a wonderful story or illustration. It was wonderful to see so many costumes on Thursday for World Book Day and so much shared reading across the school. As you know, our curriculum is centered around good quality texts and a love of reading. Our library visits have really helped with this! Long may our love of reading continue!
